Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 16 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Scattered showers on Saturday, mainly in the west.

Today:
Rain across the east soon clearing this morning, although lingering across Shetland until mid-afternoon. This afternoon will see a few showers, mainly in the west, some brightness breaking through in places. Less cold than of late.

Tonight:
The east will be largely dry with lengthy clear periods, a slight frost in places. Occasional showers continuing across the west and the Northern Isles.

Sunday:
The east will be mainly dry and bright. Scattered showers continuing in the west and Northern Isles, some longer spells of rain possible here in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Further showers in the north and west on Monday, mainly dry elsewhere. Rain and hill snow extending northwards on Tuesday, this lingering across the north on Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.